MRS. JOSEPH BERGER, Treasurer

LIBRARY REPORT

The Library has received a large number of books this year as gifts from Mr. Wm. Holmes and his sister, Mrs. DeMonseigle and also from Mrs. Johnson of Newport.

The shelves were so crowded that there was not room for new books. The State Librarian and her Assistant spent one whole day, with Mrs. Brigham and Mrs. Berger, weeding out old and obsolete books and rearranging the newer ones. They also rearranged the children's section so as to be more accessible to the little folks.

Forty-four new books have been purchased, Reader's Digest has been subscribed to for two years, and current magazines such as Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, Woman's Home Companion, McCall's and Better Homes and Gardens are brought in by subscribers.

The Library Board has arranged to have two coats of deck paint applied to the porch floor as soon as weather permits.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Again we are at the threshold of international emergency. The price of freedom is already mounting. In terms of dollars and standards of living, it is going to be expensive beyond imagination. The cost in blood and human sacrifice may be immeasurable. What war will do to our American ideals, we cannot tell at this point.

It will profit us nothing to win again, and lose the character of our citizenship. In foreign lands, a far greater portion of total resources are expected to "educate" youth, to feed his mind with that which will make him a willing tool of the powers that subjugate all personal attributes to the "good of the State". Many foreign governments have recognized more clearly than we, how the forces of mass "education" can be utilized to promote whatever end is sought by those in power.

In America, we have learned the need of having weapons of defense at our immediate disposal. Yet we appreciate that truth is more powerful than the sword. Our great public education system has grown in the last half century to amazing proportions. Most of us give at least "lip service" to the realization of its importance and its possibilities. Man cannot govern himself better unless he knows how. The very existence of self-government depends upon the increasing wisdom of the people. Even the winning of a war is determined in the classroom, the shop, and the laboratory, as well as on the battlefield.

We must not lose a generation—or a civilization—by relaxing our efforts in public education while fighting to survive.

As there is little major industry in the small towns of Union 5, the real estate tax places an unequal burden on many of them in their attempts to provide good schools. When the General Court of 1949 launched its austerity program to balance the state budget without new state taxes, this Union of eight towns lost over half of its state aid. It is not possible to run schools, improve “horse and buggy” buildings, educate increasing populations, and hire good teachers, with a dollar worth half as much or less, and still keep the total appropriations down. Just as bread and meat and clothing cost more, so must schools. We take pride in telling that, where towns voted the amounts recommended by the school officials last March, budgets will probably balance in spite of unprecedented price increases.

New budgets must be larger. It is just as unlikely that we can cut school expenditures, and get more with our smaller dollar, as it is to demand from the grocer as many groceries for the same amount as we did a year ago. The average school costs in this Union—one of difficult geography and thinly settled—are below the average for New Hampshire.

The new formula for state aid encourages a local effort up to $18 per thousand on equalized valuation. It encourages a foundation program equal to at least $175 for each elementary pupil and $225 for high school pupils. It discourages poor schools. For the first year, some towns will benefit, some may lose. Eventually it will require a town to raise eighteen mills on its equalized valuation before the state will participate in local school costs. This figure is about average for New Hampshire now. The program of equalization is primarily to assist those towns which must make more than the average tax effort to maintain the foundation program. A community that reduces school expenditures to the lowest possible figure, and maintains a reduced program, will probably lose its state support.

Essentially, the new formula can become a fair equalization program. Should it also include flat grant aid to relieve the real estate tax burden in all towns from increasing school costs? Total school costs increased in New Hampshire in 1949-50 by $3,000,000, at the same time state aid was cut by $1,600,000. Some towns lost every penny of assistance, and many have tax rates of nearly $6.00—a few more. The real estate taxpayer in every town made up the difference.

With the money available to us, we have as many improvements in our two schools as possible. In the past two years, the buildings have been painted inside and out. The desks have been resurfaced. As the old desks need repair in the future, we should replace with new units. Eventually our schools would be equipped with the more modern movable type.

Toilet facilities remain a big problem. Chemical toilets in each school would be some improvement. However, these are a halfway measure. Is it too much to expect that all schools today should be equipped with running water and flush toilets?

The ideal arrangement for school housing may be a consolidated school located somewhere between Lempster and Goshen: one building, one well, one heating plant, one sewage disposal system, one activities room, four classrooms. No teacher would then have more than two grades. The children would benefit from better health and better teaching conditions. The geography of the towns make such a cooperative district feasible, with no particular difficulties in transportation.

Recent changes in law make it possible for school districts to set aside up to one-half of one percent of assessed valuation yearly as a reserve for capital outlays. Charlestown and Acworth have used their accumulated reserves to provide vastly improved schools. Cornish will have over $10,000 soon for its new school. Lempster started a fund of $1000 last year which will probably be increased this year. Though we cannot have better school buildings immediately, the establishment of a reserve is the businesslike way to insure good school facilities for our children in the future.

The benefits of the hot lunch program are so far reaching, and affect such a large number of our families, that the district should give the program some financial support. I earnestly hope that you will vote money, at least to pay the workers, so that we can provide hot, nutritious lunches for all our children for a very small charge to each.

It requires a combination of conscientious, well-trained teachers, good school housing, good books and supplies, and cooperation between school and home, for schools to succeed. Schools that were "good enough for grandpop" are not good enough for our boys and girls. We must provide a thorough foundation of skills, health, and citizenship, for a complicated and complex world.

"Education is an investment in people. It is people who make a nation great, not resources, not business, not scenery, but people who determine the social trends which carry a nation forward."

JOHN W. DAY, Supt. of Schools.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

Because school health service is wide spread, few of us have ever seen more of the service than the school nurse driving to and from school. Her car is loaded with a variety of things: the bag with hand basin, towels, soap, rubbing alcohol, clinical thermometer, bandage, adhesive tape, sterile gauze, tongue depressors, safety pins, large pieces of cotton cloth for emergency, a supply of D.D. especially approved by the State Department for use in the care of head lice, and an apron for the nurse to wear while she is helping in the home. Also in the car are school scales, measuring rod, files with the health report of each child, dental, immunization and other records. Frequently, there is a supply of first aid materials to be left in schools where it is needed. At times there are cartons of clothing, given by interested persons to the nurse for distribution where it will be needed and appreciated.

In winter weather, the nurse is ready for bad traveling; she carries burlap sacks, a box of sand, a shovel, an ax, a tow rope, and car chains. I must note here that it is a good neighbor who always helps me out of road difficulties.

There is a great deal more to school nursing than merely riding from one school to another. There is the duty of finding and correcting pediculosis—finding the reason for “all this scratching.” Some skin disturbance is temporary, although there can be signs of some real disease. Deviation from the normal of the eyes, the ears, the posture, the feet and the poor general appearance of the child are carefully noted. There is the frequent inspection of the classrooms. Supervising all children during epidemics requires much time and travel.

The home visit is a most important part of the school health work. The purpose of the visits is to help the mother make better conditions for health. There are many things to teach. In a great many homes, there are no modern conveniences to create easy living methods. The length of time to complete a home visit varies with the object of the visit—half a day, an hour or perhaps a few minutes. Often a little help, advice, and encouragement greatly reduces difficulties. To demonstrate the treatment for elimination of head lice, to help in the treatment of scabies, to teach the care of bedding and personal clothing, to aid in riddance of cooties and other insects—are all among the school nurse's activities. These corrections often require plenty of running water, and much courage on the part of mothers who have to carry, from outdoors, every drop of water for daily living. The need of extra is most discouraging.

While the nurse is in the home, she may talk over such important subjects as better personal hygiene, better daily health habits for children, the proper shoes to buy, the proper clothing for the cold winter mornings, the all-important "good breakfast." Too, there is the "cruel" lunch box to talk about. Often lists of suitable foods are presented the mother for her convenience in providing for a nutritious school lunch.

There are visits for the purpose of getting the home and the school running on schedule, assisting the mother to make the changes necessary when the child goes from home to school for the first time. The school nurse tries to be of the most help to the child who is sick or has a communicable disease. Homes are often visited and mothers instructed in the care of and control of these diseases.

Your school nurse works closely with state and local social and health agencies. She has full cooperation of the N. H. Tuberculosis Association, the State Sight Conservation Program, the Hearing Society, and the Division of Crippled Children's Service. She brings as many of these services to the school community as possible.
